Hougsone, April 12th, 1899. This natives of Shantung have been distinguishing themselves lately by the display of anti-foreign and anti-Christian proclivities. Whether or not the news of the atrocious marder of Father VICTORIN In the province of Hunch has incited the people of Shantung to perpetrate like ernelties on Christians or not, it is im. possible to say, but example is infectious, bones, bides, &c., on board. and in China as much so as my other part of the world. Certainly, to judge from the accounts just published of some antiwould seem as though the Shantung patives had been infected with the savagery, of the Hupchites. According to a letter dated from Ichoufu, 24th March, two native Christians were recently burned to death in a public bonfire and two others had their eyes put out by a mob, while a living child was roasted over a fire. Since then, emboldened by absolute impunity from punishment for these crimes, six more Christians have been murdered at Shenshan and three at Feihien, about forty miles from Ichoufu. A foreign priest was only friends—there are 200 on the list—but, unforsaved from a similar, fate by the fleetness of his horse, which he had kept saddled day wishes, and say that a concrete silver emboliand night for three months knowing the | ment of them would follow him later on. peril he stood in. The experience of London, appropriate way i.e., towards providing good lers, seeing the bullets fly round them, which the disease is called, have combined to secommodation, he necessity of publishing this effect that the enemy broke and fled in confusion, leaving three of their number dead and three more badly wounded on the scene of the disturbance. The travellers' barrows which had been upset and the contents scattered by the riotors, were eventually recovered with very little loss; being sent after them by the villagors, who seem to have been struck with a wholesome dread of the revolver practice of the Germans. The conduct of the latter is worthy of all praise. They did not in any way provoke the attack, and remeastrated with the prized by Admiral Dewey, though he had been villagers before using their weapons. It was only, when it became evident that nothing but a massacre would entisfy these savages that the fravellers stood on their defence, and then they acted with a coolness and a judgment that produced the best results. It must be admitted they were exceedingly fortunate, for had one of the dustry as a whole from the establishment of the many bullets fired at them killed or disabled one of their number, the mob would have surely rushed in upon and overpowered the survivors. It is satisfactory to know that an example is to be made of the people of this district, whose appetite for blood is distinctly voracious. The province of Shantung is evidently in need of civilising influences, and it is to be hoped these may reach it presently from Kinoohow and Weiheired. The construction of the projected railway from Kinochow to Weinien and thence to Ichoufu and Tsinanfu will be commenced very shortly, and, though the German punitive expedition to Ichoufu, sent in consequence of the attack, on Lieut. HANNEMAN and his companions, may suffice to impress upon the people the advisability of leaving foreigners in peace, it will nevertheless be wise to take a leaf from the ex ample of the Russians in the building of their lines through Manchuria, along which detachments of Cossacks are posted at later-ABELOUR GLENLIVET is a very old vals to protect the workmon and prevent any attempts to destroy the plant and per-

It was anticipated that there might be some difficulty in getting the heavier parts of the new mining machinery to the Rand mines. The road, although an excellent road, has sharp corners, and there are parts where it is quite impossible to work a large team of bullocks. The idea of getting a traction engine was mooted, but none could be obtained sufficiently light t be safely trusted over the bridges. The difficulty was solved in an ingenious way. It seems that the Native States Governments have somewhat light, specially constructed steam road roller, and that steam road roller is for the time being turned into a traction engine; and it goes smoothly along the road with the heavier bits of machinery behind it. When they come to a bridge the road roller goes over first, and then tows over the machinery at the end of a rope or chain, so weight at one time. It is an ingenious plan and is working well .- Straits Times.

OUTRAGE ON A BRITISH OFFICER AT MACAO.

HE NEGLECTS TO DOFF HIS HAT TO A RELIGIOUS PROCESSION AND I ASSAULTED AND ARRESTED. RELEASED ON INTERVENTION OF

THE CONSUL.

On Monday afternoon, during a religious procession at Macao, Colonel Brown, D.S.O., the Military Attache to the British Legation at Peking, was subjected to a diegraceful out rage. Colonel Brown was on a visit to th Settlement with a party of ladies, and while on his way from the steamer to the Boa Vista Hotel, a religious procession was encountered. The procession, it may be mentioned was not one of the great processions officially recognised by the Government, but what is known as the Sonhora Remedica Procession, Senhera Remedios having won prise in the Manila lottery some years ago and devoted part of the money to an endowment for an aubunt procession in convection with one of the churches. Religious banners are carried, but not, we understand, the Host or crucifix. Meeting the procession, Colonel Brown stood to see it pass, when his hab was rudely knoched off. Thinking it was an accident Colonel Brown replaced his hat, when was again knooked off, with violence, an party of soldiers, acting under the orders of Lieut Galhardo, nephew and A.D.C. to H.E. the Governor of Macao, arrested him, and marched him off to the church onolosure. On gathering that it was his neglect to uncover that was objected to, Colonel Brown was quite ready to keep his hat off. A PREVIOUS CASE A semewhat similar case occurred at Macao in 1849, but with the important difference that, whereas Colonel Brown's failure to comply with Portuguete sentiment was inadvertent and unintentional, the gentleman concerned in the previous once was aggressive in wearing his hat, refusing to take it off when requested. Dr. Donnys in his "Treaty Ports" gives the fellowing account of the affair :-"The year 1849 was also made memorable through the imprisonment of a British subject who had made un offensive display of his Protestantism by refusing to take off his hat on the pusage of the Host through one of the streets, and his forcible release, accompanied by the killing of a Portuguese centry, by a boat's crew landed from H. When Captain Kappel applied for the pristner's immediate rendition Governor Amiral Surtly refused it because the gallant Captain declined to ask for it as a personal farour. Cappain Keppel fancied that his forcible interference would be held justifiable on the ground of the above mentioned Hong kong Onlinance, which included Macao in the dominions of the Emperor of China. RUSSIA AND THE FAR EAST. A Moscow correspondent repeats the information that the construction of the port at Talienwan has been entrusted to M. Sukharov, whose plans have already been submitted for sanction to the authorities. M. Sakharov was the engineer who completed the port at Wladiwostook. The Russo-Chinese Railway has ordered in England two large steam dredgers for the work on the port at Talienwan. With regard to Wladiwoslock, the repid rise in the past few years has been remarkable, and will in the near future entirely change the condition of life in the Russian Far East. Hitherto the whole country from the Pacific to the Flate Baykal has been dependent on ahnual supplies imported from abread during the few months for which navigation is open. The construction of the Wladiwostock-Khabarovak Railway, and great advances made in the cultivation of the land, have revolutionised the country. Wladiwostock is becoming the great wholesale depot for the Russian Far East. Quite recently Moscow houses have opened agencies for wholevale dealings in their goods at Wladiwostock. The whole country from the Pacific to the Baykal, is outirely free from all import duties, with the exception of an Excise charge on a few classes of goods. It is true that the Russian Government intends to impose duties in people are mistaken who consider China to be the Far East at some future time: but it will in a parlous condition. " TURNED UP."

Messra: Dallas and Musgrave present night "Turned Up.". than any tragedy can be.

Mark Melford's comedy is not new to Sugapore, an amateur company having produced The plot is somewhat complicated, a good deal of the fau of the second act depending upon the complications caused by the marriages Capt. Modway and his wives. The eld skipper goes to me and is reported lost. His wife marries again-Carraway Bones, an undertaker on the very day that she ought to turn up and certify to the respectability of her son George Medway, about to marry Ada Baltio, the only daughter of General Baltie, a stickler for position. George is living at Richmond, with Nod Steddam (Mr. dwin Phillips) and Sabrins his sister. Care way turns up there and is promptly ejected at Later complications, coour when Capt Medway returns, and after him a duaky Choe claims to have married the Captain, int who, the General insists, compromises the yourger George. However, all comes right and the marries the undertaker. The play went with considerable vivacity, and the laughter noon commenced. Later it slackened. from shear imphility on the part of the andiesce in lauch any more. Mr. Musgrave had a good deal to do an George Medway, and did it well. He succeeded in pourtraying the ardent lowr, perplexed by a hundred fears lest he should fail to get the consent of his fair one's father, without overdoing the business, a restraint which was less observable in the otheraise fairish presentment" of Nod Staddam by Mr. Phillips. Mr. Dallas made a perfectly rresistible Carraway Bones contractor for families at a reduced rate. His make up was most comical, and his musical chinckle a constant source of merriment. The difficult "drunk scene and summer-house adventures were less admirable than his portrayal of the Boss. Masher in the lut scene. Mr. Stephenson was an efficient Caplain Modway; and Mr. Feriell good General Baltic, their play in the threatened horsewhipping being very effective. Miss Modge Grey had not very much to de as leopatra, but thewed us the coloured lady of he United States very well. Miss Rosie Blair and Miss Barbars Fenn, as Mrs. Medway and her daughter, got plenty of work, each making the most of their parts. Mrs. Pannsi was layed by Miss Bartha Hunter, and Miss Famy stanolog was a most presentable Ada.

CHINESE IDIOSYNGRACIES.

It is remarked by a Tokyo journalist that national idosynersoies. You can not Europeanise a Chinaman, Indeed, it is more possible to denstionalise a Jew; for though the Jews, on mosse, have more thoroughly scalaged with the Gentiles; individual Jews have become so nearly German or French, or English or Rassian, that the type sione differentiates them. Can we say as much of the Chinese? How many Chinese are there who have obliterated their Coloutial apota and put on an American or European akin There are a great many Japanese. Indeed; the Japanese moomplish the metamorphesis easily enough But the Chinese are a highly specialised order of beings. They can naither andmilate their surroundings nor become a public scandal. WHAT IS A CORN ? MORNS are inbercular horny looking excroscences of the toes and feet. They are situated on the outside of the little toes, on the soles of the fact, and between the toes; in some individuals all the prominent parts of the feet are invaded by undue pressure caused by weering narrow, short, or improperly-made boots or shoes.

Those afflicted with Corns out the surface of the callocity, or have the Corna pared by incompetent or unskilled persons; the consequence is, the more the callons part is out the larger it grows, extending itself; and out of the same surface several Corns are formed in the course of time and encouraged by the frequent outling of the upper part of the Corns, The use of poids, lunar caustic, Aquafortis, and other, remedies produces inflammation and swelling, give rise to abscesses, which are followed by serious consequences too numerous to mention.
